CATHOLIC CHURCH AND SCHOOL

MARCH 3, 2024

3RD SUNDAY OF LENT

Since the Passover of the Jews was near, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. He found in the temple area those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, as well as the money changers seated there. He made a whip out of cords and drove them all out of the temple area. - Jn 2:13b-15a

In a private revelation, Jesus asked St. Margaret Mary Alacoque to spread the practice of honoring his Sacred Heart by going to Mass and receiving Communion on nine consecutive First Fridays of the month. These Thursday Holy Hours from Come to Me: Living the Nine First Fridays by St. Anne Flanagan, FSP, will help you prepare for and live the Nine First Fridays with greater openness to the transforming love of Christ.

COVENANT NETWORK-CATHOLIC RADIO

This year of 2024 has been designated as The Year of Prayer. Covenant Network Catholic radio is here to help you to increase or begin to create a structured prayer life. In addition to our engaging programming, the day is laced with prayer. You can pray the Angelus, the Holy Mass, the Rosary, the Chaplet of Divine Mercy and much more with us. Don't miss the opportunity to enrich your day with prayer. Tune in to KHOJ 1460 AM or 96.7 FM or listen anytime on our Covenant Network app or at OurCatholicRadio.org.

PASTOR'S CORNER

FR. KEVIN SCHMITTGENS, PASTOR

Ed and Helen: March 2, 1946

My cousin and her husband were in town from Florida last weekend to attend a funeral for their brother-in-law. (I celebrated the Mass here at Holy.) One of my other cousins decided that this would be a perfect time to get together and share a meal. And it was perfect.

What made it even more memorable is that my cousin brought out all these old pictures that my aunt had mounted and saved, and several of them from my mom and dad's wedding – 78 years ago this weekend. I had never seen these pictures before.

Their wedding day, March 2, 1946, was a bright sunny day in Denver, Colorado. Mom looked radiant in her wedding dress and Dad, surprisingly, looked dapper in a double breasted suit. (All the men in the 40's wore double breasted suits. I need one. They look so classy!) Mom's cousin was her maid of honor (mom was the only girl in her family) and my uncle Hank, who would become my godfather eleven years later, was the best man. My Aunt Julie (dad's side) and my Uncle Jack (mom's side) were in the wedding party. It had been eight months since the Second World War had finally ended and all the weddings in 1946 would be the fuse that would ignite the Baby Boom.

Mom and Dad seem in these pictures full of hope and optimism. The scourge of fascism had been beaten and there was hope for a time of peace and prosperity. They would move to St. Louis and dad would take advantage of the GI Bill and get his education at St. Louis University and become an accountant. Mom was a stay at home mother whose love and concern would deeply touch the five children that they would welcome into their family. (I was #4.) They would never be very rich, but we never ever wanted for anything in our lives. I had always assumed we were middle class, until I ventured a bit beyond South St. Louis County and found out we weren't. (Our exotic trips to Poplar Bluff, MO and Des Moines, IA should have been an obvious clue.) In their wedding pictures, they seem to have little or no clue as to what lay ahead of them over the next forty years (they made it to their fortieth wedding anniversary), the joys and sorrows of family life. (Most especially the grief of that dreaded Child #4! He was a handful.) But they were people of faith, and so they were up for almost anything.

One picture from that day is particularly poignant for me: a group picture of my four grandparents. I am not positive, but that may have been the only time the four of them were together. Two of my grandparents, Grandma Gannon and Grandpa Schmittgens, had died before I was born. The other two, Grandma Schmittgens and Grandpa Gannon, I knew, but they were gone by the time I finished first grade. (If your grandparents are still alive, visit them! Now!) In the picture at the wedding they seem so old, that is until I realized that I am older now than they were in 1946. They had seen a lot. The first 46 years of the twentieth century were a time of great progress and great strife. The Gannons began the century on one continent, (island? They were born in Ireland), but finished up in the new world of the Americas. Though I barely knew them, my grandparents' courage, strength and integrity gave me my life, my character and my sense of humor.

Lent is a time to remember our roots, our origins or heritages. And when we do that, it gives us the nerve and the pluck to continue on into our futures.

And then one day, someone will look back on photos of us with a similar affection and warmth and thank God.

Father Kevin

with Fr. Kevin!

Join me after the 8:15 Mass on Tuesdays during Lent for a seven week Bible study in the rectory dining room. I am going to make it very simple. First, you can critique my homily from the prior week (what did you like, what didn't you like, what didn't you understand) and then we will look at the readings for the next week and discuss what they mean to prepare my homily for the following Sunday.

There is no cost and each session will end by 10 am. The dates are February 20 and 27, March 5, 12, 19, and 26, and April 2.

No need for reservations, just show up and we will take it from there.

Missouri Catholic Conference
Opposes Abortion Ballot Initiative

The Missouri bishops, through the Missouri Catholic Conference, have issued a statement opposing the abortion ballot initiative.

The statement reads, in part, “A misleading proposed amendment to the Missouri Constitution suggests that a ‘right to an abortion’ is needed to protect women, while the amendment could actually put women at risk and endanger preborn children. This ballot initiative would legalize abortions in this state and remove long standing health and safety standards for women. In addition, this initiative does nothing to reduce or eliminate the underlying social causes for abortion and does not further a true culture of life in the state.

“Groups are currently collecting citizen signatures to add the amendment to the November 2024 ballot. We encourage all Catholics and people of good will to NOT SIGN any petition that would put this amendment on the ballot.”
