PASTOR'S CORNER

Reaching out in Love

As we heard last week at Mass, the Annual Catholic Appeal has begun. There are literally thousands of people who will benefit from your gift. Students in our Catholic schools, parishes which are struggling to pay the bills, seminarians preparing to serve the church, children in special education, women struggling with a problem pregnancy, people with disabilities, people who need health care in our rural areas, and elderly priests. (I'm getting very close...) I encourage you to look at the brochure in the back of church to see all those agencies and services who will benefit from your generosity. For myself, this is one of four major charitable causes that I invest in. As I mentioned at Mass, Fr. Gene and myself have already made our pledge.

"But Fr. K., I can't give a lot this year."

Let me tell you something, but you got to promise not to tell this to the Archbishop. There were many years when I gave a lot less than I do now. Why? Well, I wasn't paid a great deal back in the day and I had some big bills to pay. Nonetheless, I made sure that I gave something so that I could participate in this effort. The participation numbers are very important to me. As I mentioned a while back, when I was down in Houston, their Archdiocese was beginning their version of the "ACA." The pastor spoke at all the Masses and he mentioned that 178 households had given to this appeal last year. The parish has 8000 households. I was flabbergasted by the shockingly low numbers. We have already had 79 households participate this year and we really haven't begun the appeal in earnest. Giving something says that you are a part of something vital and important, that we are all pulling in the same direction.

"But Fr. K., I am not too happy with the Archdiocese right now."

The past year and a half with All Things New, we've all been through a turbulent time, no doubt about it. Anytime you do something different, anytime there is change, anytime someone get shoved out of their comfort zone, people will feel uncomfortable and even angry. I understand that. HOWEVER... (there's always an "however" in life) please keep a couple of things in mind. I think that the Archdiocese, and in particular the Archbishop, has been remarkably open about what is going on and why it needs to happen. I have been pleasantly surprised by how this process has worked. (I will admit, I was a skeptic.) That being said, there are probably a lot of people who will not be giving to the ACA this year because of real or perceived issues with this process. So it is imperative that parishes like us step up in response. If you have any issue with the ACA this year, I would be more than happy to discuss this with you, to listen to your concerns and explain why, this year in particular, I increased my gift. Finally, know that the people benefiting from your gift had those needs long before All Things New and will continue to have those needs into the future.

HOLY has been blessed.

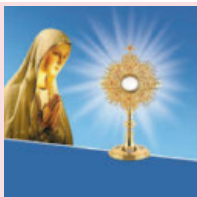

The biggest reason why I am stepping up my efforts for the ACA this year is the simple fact that the Archdiocese had put a lot of faith in our parish by recognizing that we are strong enough to be a "stand alone." (I hate that term, but I couldn't figure out a better one.) We are beneficiaries of a strong and loving tradition. In the last month and a half, I have celebrated several funerals of present and former parishioners and I have become aware of the legacy of service they have left us. Rick Bischoff, Do Reis, Pete Berndt, Cathy Jeep and Mick Hahn, all in their particular ways gave of themselves to make this parish, our world, a better place. This year, in particular, it is vital that the parishioners of Holy Redeemer share their goodness with our larger Catholic community, a community in transition and change, a community which I believe, is on the cusp of great and glorious things.

A Final Thanks

For many years Mary Smith was our point person for the ACA. This year Dan Hartrich has taken over the job. (I didn't twist his arm too much.) I thank the two of them, and I thank all of you for your generosity and care as you reach out in love.

Father Kevin

Our Haitian goats are prospering

Our Haitian partner in St. Jean du Sud, a volunteer organization called AVOREDES, has been running The Goat and Chicken Project for the past two years. Funding for this project was provided by our 2021 Lenten Offering. In 2021, 100 families received a young female goat, 4 chickens, access to elite Boer male goats for breeding, veterinary support, and training in animal husbandry. In return, participants pledged to donate their first female goat to another family that, in turn, will have access to the breeding service. In 2022, we doubled down on the project and added another 200 participating families. As of April 15, we've had 303 newborn goats and 106 goats gifted to other families. Of course, the numbers from the 2022 cohort lag behind the 2021 cohort because not all of the mothers have had their first litter. The chickens are more or less on their own but, like the goats, provide a badly needed source of food and in- come for the fam- ilies.

Please mail or deliver this form and $50 deposit fee to the Parish office at 17 Joy Avenue, Webster Groves, 63119. (Check payable to Holy Redeemer.) Space is limited due to retreat facility accommodations. We welcome non-HR parishioners and non-Catholics, space permitting.

When Afghanistan fell in August 2021, St. Louisans stepped up with donations to furnish apartments for these Afghan refugees.

In 2022 the International Institute resettled over 800 new arrivals from Afghanistan, Iraq, Myanmar, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Guatemala, Ukraine and others. The "store of donations" has run dry and so we are once again asking St. Louisans to "live the gospel message" by donating to the International Institute for these new immigrants so they will be welcomed into fully furnished apartments, easing their financial burden. Thank You!
