*"For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son..."
JOHN 3:16*

Is your love conditional? Is there a price others have to pay to receive your love and forgiveness? Are you generous with your time, skills, money and possessions? If you give someone something, do you expect something in return? Do you give your time freely or do you "fit it in" when it's convenient for you? God desires a personal relationship with us so much that He gave us His Son, unconditionally! Pray for a grateful and generous heart.

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord. And let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

PASTOR'S CORNER

I am an idea pack rat and a thief. Whenever I find something interesting, I put it in a file marked IDEAS and every so often I will read them to get ideas for homilies and the like. I am not at all sure where I found this, but considering that we are in the midst of graduation season, and I have to do several bulletins all at once, AND we are at the tip of the spear of ALL THINGS NEW, I offer this for your reflection (#10 to #18 will come next week).

18 things to tell 18 year olds (and 28 year olds, and 48 year olds, and 68 year olds)

1. Commit yourself to making lots of mistakes. – Mistakes teach you important lessons. The biggest mistake you can make is doing nothing because you're too scared to make a mistake. So don't hesitate – don't doubt yourself. In life, it's rarely about getting a chance; it's about taking a chance. You'll never be 100% sure it will work, but you can always be 100% sure doing nothing won't work. Most of the time you just have to go for it! And no matter how it turns out, it always ends up just the way it should be. Either you succeed or you learn something. Win-Win. Remember, if you never act, you will never know for sure, and you will be left standing in the same spot forever.

2. Find hard work you love doing. – If I could offer my 18-year-old self some real career advice, I'd tell myself not to base my career choice on other people's ideas, goals and recommendations. I'd tell myself not to pick a major because it's popular, or statistically creates graduates who make the most money. I'd tell myself that the right career choice is based on one key point: Finding hard work you love doing. As long as you remain true to yourself, and follow your own interests and values, you can find success through passion. Perhaps more importantly, you won't wake up several years later working in a career field you despise, wondering "How the heck am I going to do this for the next 30 years?" So if you catch yourself working hard and loving every minute of it, don't stop. You're on to something big. Because hard work ain't hard when you concentrate on your passions.

3. Invest time, energy and money in yourself every day. – When you invest in yourself, you can never lose, and over time you will change the trajectory of your life. You are simply the product of what you know. The more time, energy and money you spend acquiring pertinent knowledge, the more control you have over your life.

4. Explore new ideas and opportunities often. – Your natural human fears of failure and embarrassment will sometimes stop you from trying new things. But you must rise above these fears, for your life's story is simply the culmination many small, unique experiences. And the more unique experiences you have, the more interesting your story gets. So seek as many new life experiences as possible and be sure to share them with the people you care about. Not doing so is not living.

5. When sharpening your career skills, focus more on less. – Think in terms of Karate: A black belt seems far more impressive than a brown belt. But does a brown belt really seem any more impressive than a red belt? Probably not to most people. Remember that society elevates experts high onto a pedestal. Hard work matters, but not if it's scattered in diverse directions. So narrow your focus on learning fewer career related skills and master them all.

6. People are not mind readers. Tell them what you're thinking. – People will never know how you feel unless you tell them. Your boss? Yeah, he doesn't know you're hoping for a promotion because you haven't told him yet. That cute girl you haven't talked to because you're too shy? Yeah, you guessed it; she hasn't given you the time of day simply because you haven't given her the time of day either. In life, you have to communicate with others. And often, you have to open your vocal cords and speak the first words. You have to tell people what you're thinking. It's as simple as that.

7. Make swift decisions and take immediate action. – Either you're going to take action and seize new opportunities, or someone else will first. You can't change anything or make any sort of progress by sitting back and thinking about it. Remember, there's a huge difference between knowing how to do something and actually doing it. Knowledge is basically useless without action.

8. Accept and embrace change. – However good or bad a situation is now, it will change. That's the one thing you can count on. So embrace change, and realize that change happens for a reason. It won't always be easy or obvious at first, but in the end it will be worth it. (editor's note: There are more than a few people in the Archdiocese who need to hear this!)

9. Don't worry too much about what other people think about you. – For the most part, what other people think and say about you doesn't matter. When I was 18, I let the opinions of my high school and early college peers influence my decisions. And, at times, they steered me away from ideas and goals I strongly believed in. I realize now, years later, that this was a foolish way to live, especially when I consider that nearly all of these people whose opinions I cared so much about are no longer a part of my life. Unless you're trying to make a great first impression (job interview, first date, etc.), don't let the opinions of others stand in your way. What they think and say about you isn't important. What is important is how you feel about yourself.

Father Kevin

ANOINTING OF THE SICK

If you suffer from chronic illness, or have a scheduled medical procedure, you can receive the sacrament of anointing. Please contact the parish office (314) 962-0038, to request a visit from Fr. Kevin or Fr. Gene.

Call for Nominations to the Haiti Committee

At our July meeting, the HR Haiti Committee will be voting in the officers and chairs for our next fiscal year. The officer positions include the Chairperson, Secretary, and Treasurer while the chair positions include Education, Fundraising, Medical, Dental, Food Security, and Public Outreach. In addition to filling these leadership roles, we are interested in anyone with expertise in agriculture, water sanitation, grant writing, or solar power installation. Come join the team! All of the work by the HR Haiti Mission supports our twinned Catholic parish in St. Jean du Sud, Haiti. Inquiries and nominations may be directed to Jim Baum (jabaum54@gmail.com; 314-853-7747).

HR HAITI COMMITTEE "SPONSOR-A-STUDENT PROGRAM" 2023-2024 SCHOOL YEAR

For over 19 years, our Haiti Committee has been sponsoring children at St Therese of the Infant Jesus School in our twining parish in St Jean du Sud, Haiti. This program allows HR parishioners and friends to donate $125 per school year per student to pay tuition for the children in the St Jean area who would otherwise be unable to attend school. Additional money is also needed to allow Sister to purchase needed books and supplies for the school children.

Due to the unrest and the rampant inflation in Haiti, the amount to sponsor a student this year has been increased to $125.00.

Anyone can be a Sponsor-A-Student donor. Just complete and return the attached form to the rectory or drop it in the collection basket OR you can go to www.holyr.org – OnLine Giving – Sponsor A Student to make your donation. Please note in the comments that you are sponsoring a student.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call Corky Bahr (314-520-3899) or email hjcfbahr@prodigy.net. Please send you donation by August 1, 2023 so that we have time to let Sister know how many students are sponsored. May God bless you for helping the children in St Jean du Sud, Haiti.

Where faith and healing unite

Glennon Sunday June 4

When SSM Health Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital opened its doors as the nation's first free-standing Catholic pediatric hospital, a promise was made to the community that any child in need of care would be welcomed, regardless of their parents' ability to pay.

The generosity of the faithful made SSM Health Cardinal Glennon a reality in 1956. Still today, the faithful uphold our Mission of faith-filled services: Through our exceptional health care services, we reveal the healing presence of God.

Please join us to help make miracles possible by making a gift during Glennon Sunday weekend, June 3-4, online at glennonsunday.org/faith. On behalf of the children and families at Cardinal Glennon, may God bless you for providing hope, healing, faith and compassion to every child in need of care.

YOU make the exceptional care they deserve possible at Cardinal Glennon.
